Minnesota Gambling Control Board

Board Staff Impersonation

Recently in the Howard Lake area a person with a clipboard walked into a lawful gambling site, looked at flares, and went behind the bar and to the pull-tab booth (which was closed at the time). This person did not produce nor was asked for an ID.

This individual was not an employee of the Gambling Control Board.

Be alert to suspicious behavior and ask questions.

Reminders:

- Gambling Control Board personnel will always show their ID/credentials when entering a premises.
- Your procedure should be to ask for ID if credentials are not voluntarily produced.
- Notify local law enforcement and the Gambling Control Board if anyone is impersonating Board staff.
